

ANOTHER RAID OF DIVE IS MADE BY BLUE COAT SQUAD

Officers Swoop Down on Notorious "Hole in the Wall" on Third Avenue.

FIVE INMATES ARRESTED

Jim Marcos, Proprietor of Restaurant, Fined $75 and Costs for Selling Liquor Without License.

Following up the raid on Twenty-fourth street Monday night, the police swooped down on the notorious "hole in the wall" on Third avenue, near Twenty-second street, last night, arresting five inmates—four men and one woman. Jim Marcos, proprietor of the restaurant, was fined $75 and costs this morning by Magistrate Smith for selling liquor without a license. Nick Paris, waiter, Tom Savas, cook, and Miss Rae Kerrigan, waitress, all employed by Marcos, were dismissed. Officers Kinney, McCarthy, Berry and Sullivan made the arrests.

The fourth man, Chris James, escaped from the police station and succeeded in boarding a Bridge life car before the officers trailed him. James was arrested in the raid on a disorderly charge. He had been examined at the chief's office, after which he was allowed the liberty of the waiting room of the station, when he slipped out unnoticed. The police communicated with authorities in Davenport and Moline.

The restaurant, which gained a reputation under Bert Duprez, has been under observation by the officers for some time. Last night a man was sent in to buy a bottle of beer by the officers. After he drank it he tried to take the bottle with him, but Marcos would not allow it. The witness stated that Marcos tore the label from the bottle before serving it and that it contained Cross Country beer.

Saw Beer Sold.

The evidence given by Miss Rae Kerrigan created quite a stir in the court room. Miss Kerrigan stated that she had seen beer sold there and had overheard a conversation in which Marcos claimed that Nick Coin had secured protection for him from the police officers in his sale of beer without a license.

Marcos denied that he had sold beer and stated that he only kept it for his own use and sold near beer.

The officers took five cases of beer to the station, and several bottles were offered as evidence at the trial this morning. Officer Kinney stated that all of the bottles found in the ice box contained beer. During the cross examination by Ben Schriver, attorney for Marcos, witnesses were asked repeatedly if they could tell whether the bottles contained beer or near beer.

Marcos has been operating the "hole in the wall" for about three months and runs a rooming house in connection. No occupants were found in the rooms upstairs, and it is supposed that some one tipped off the proposed raid. The property is owned by Mrs. Baker.

ROCK ISLAND, ILL. THIRD AVENUE THROUGH TO SECOND

A gift package in a McCabe wrapping is always appreciated because of its well known quality and high character.

The Great Christmas Store, the Store of Service, the Store With the Christmas Spirit.

The store where Christmas gifts are so abundant.

And withal a store of economy.

All roads lead to McCabe's. The Children all look to us—all eyes are turned this way—The spot light is thrown on this store and shows its ample preparedness—the great Christmas assortments, its wonderful clock-work organization, its splendid helpful service, the store where highest qualities and lowest prices march hand in hand, the store where the man, the woman and the child are equally safe.

The Children Caught Old Santa Claus Here

on Wednesday—Hundreds and hundreds of children met him face to face and he handed them presents galore.

The grown-ups are chasing him now from floor to floor filling out their lists fast and furious. Some times in the main aisle, Third avenue building, then to the Second avenue, Jewelry and China sections, then back to the second floor, books—then third floor, furniture.

Here and there a glimpse and the busy, busy click of cash carriers, the whirl of the baskets, the rap of the clerks and amid the general hustle and bustle the day is done and you are homeward bound with heaps and heaps of small packages and the next day the wagon or auto bus brings the rest.

In another day or two you are back at McCabe's and amid scenes pretty much the same, you find the dolls, the toys, the books for Young and Old, the wonderful wooden animals that run about, the pounds and pounds of Christmas candy, the sweet fresh nuts; but this is another story—You are tired, you start for home, but aren't you happy? Didn't you have a fine time? Come again, come every day if you like, bring the little folks along. They're safe and happy here.

Little Folks Prefer Toys and Dolls.

the same as those for which you have paid 75c.

These for 45c because we intend to sell a lot of them. Christmas will be here in a few days, you'd better hustle now so you will get first pick on many things you'll want.

Rock Island Has Struck Its Holiday Gait—

—it's going to be the biggest, merriest Christmas ever!

Thinking it over, there was no good reason, after all for retraining from early buying of jewelry, furniture, furs, coats, suits, linens, silks and other such things, as you want and are now buying.

Of course, we have provided plenty and the service of this store is ready and prepared for the very last day till evening, but the assortments are better now.

FURS—Our Furs Are Not All Sold Out;

Recent reduced prices set them going lively—later arrivals have filled in all the gaps. Beautiful sets, capes, stoles, muffers, every shape, all kinds of furs—Choose as you like at such prices as these, 95c, $1.25, $2.75, $3.90, $4.75 and as high as you wish to go.
